HOTELS - SHOPS
Fred Harvey
RESTAURANTS

POST CARD

STAMP

The Indian Church at Sandia was built several hundred years ago by Spanish missionaries; services are still held there. The pueblo occupies a gentle rise from the bottom-lands on the west bank of the Rio Grande River. It may easily be seen as the train approaches the small station of Alameda, a short distance above Albuquerque. The population is about 150.

COPYRIGHT BY FRED HARVEY

MESSAGE

OB-H74

ADDRESS

H-2017—INDIAN CHURCH, PUEBLO OF SANDIA, NEW MEXICO